

JOB HUNTING

So that's how I started talking to non-humans.

But what happened next?

...I have to eat.

We followed Ai to her factory's cafeteria.

So... you guys wanna hear the whole story?

Well, I found the posts that the box told me about. There were so many options, although it was weird that all their job descriptions were 20 words or less. Nonetheless, I picked three that I liked, and went to each of them.

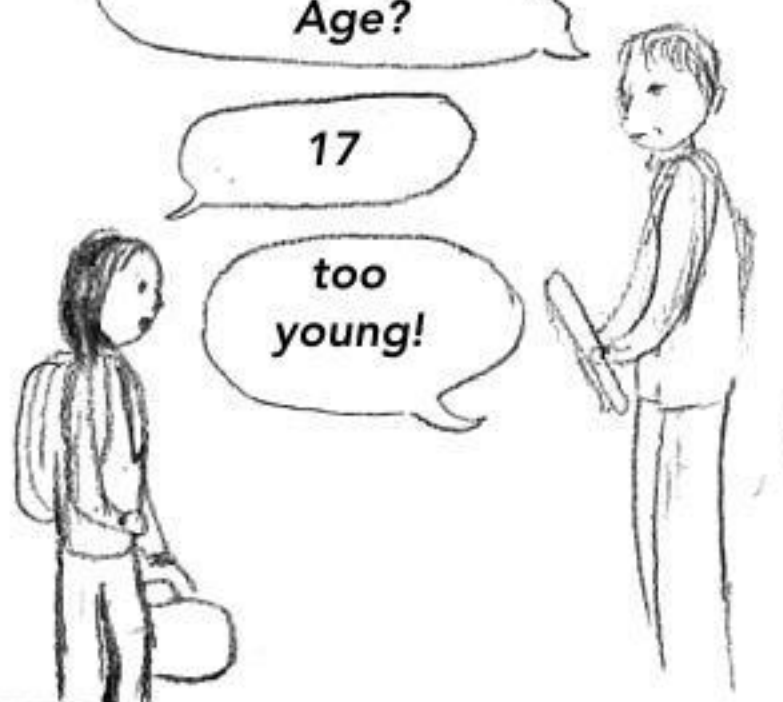

Post 1: Looking for female, over 20, enthusiastic

Job interview #1

Age?

17

too young!

Factory 2: Looking for female, between 18 and 27

interview #2

you have too little work experience

but how do i start...

why is honesty killing me....

Post 3: Looking for female, under age 25. High pay for starters.

I wonder what kind of job this is...

I saw two people in the distance

I think he is the manager.

one grabbing a girl's arm by the arm forcefully... the girl, in heavy makeup, is crying..

I got a feeling that...

I... should...

Stop!!

As I ran, I thought about where I should go.

I was scared, but I didn't want to tell my parents. If I went back home now, I wouldn't be able to come back.

I opened my phone, and started dialing mom...

But the door I opened that night wasn't my home's.
